EMPLOYEE'S GUIDE

TO PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES

June, 2012

INTRODUCTION

You are part of a dynamic public service agency, which provides services to other State agencies, State employees and the general public. This guide is to assist you by providing guidance so that you can be confident that your conduct in the work place reflects the quality of service and professionalism that our clients deserve.

Each member of your Agency team has the responsibility of understanding and following the rules of proper conduct and performance vital to carrying out the Agency's mission. Even though there are many situations you will encounter that are unfamiliar or unexpected requiring you to rely on your own discretion and judgment, it is important to have a clear understanding of the rules that govern your actions in performing your duties.

Although it would be impossible to address every infraction or violation that could conceivably develop, this manual should prove to be sufficiently comprehensive to cover the majority of situations that could be a source of concern. Since it covers a wide range of undesirable actions and behaviors, it should provide an excellent guide for supervisors and employees on what is expected in the area of proper conduct.

This guide provides reference to personnel rules and administrative procedures in the disciplinary process. It is often stated that the best discipline is self-discipline; however, in the absence of self-discipline there are times when it must come from another source. When it does, it may come with a disagreeable or negative connotation. There is a tendency to think of discipline entirely in its most limited sense as an action taken against an employee who has committed some violation of proper conduct or a rule infraction.

Discipline should be thought of in terms of instruction and training, rather than punishment. It should be recognized that the conduct of well-disciplined employees is the result of training that motivates employees to accept and work in accordance with established standards. Well-disciplined employees develop and maintain good working habits, which goes far in preventing situations from developing that require "corrective action."

After you have thoroughly reviewed this handbook please sign the "Memo to Personnel File," which is the last page of this handbook and return it to your supervisor.

AUTHORITY

The authority for management to prescribe behavior and conduct standards derives from Chapter 284 of the Nevada Revised Statutes and the Nevada Administrative Code. The "Disciplinary Procedures, Adjustment of Grievances, and Prohibitions and Offenses" section of NAC 284 provides that each appointing authority will determine and describe in writing standards of conduct appropriate to the mission of the Agency. These standards are in addition to prohibitions and penalties that are listed in NAC 284 and are applicable to all State employees. All employees of your Agency will be issued a copy of the "Prohibitions and Penalties" handbook.

This handbook has been approved by the Personnel Commission and thus has the same force and effect as other rules and regulations covering classified employees. The penalties identified for the various infractions are merely guidelines and may be applied to a greater or lesser degree indicated depending on the circumstances.

TYPES OF CORRECTIVE ACTIONS

Letter of Instruction. A letter of instruction to the employee is typically written by the supervisor(s) responsible for the employee's activities. The letter is intended to provide the employee with information and instruction or training, and establishes documentation that the employee has been made aware of his or her responsibility with regard to a particular situation or set of circumstances. The Letter of Instruction is not intended to be a part of the disciplinary process and, therefore, is not included in the order of disciplinary actions that follow.

Progressive discipline normally follows this course, in sequence; however, accelerated action may be taken when extreme situations prevail. Formal steps in the disciplinary process include the following:

1. Oral Warning. The oral warning typically comes from the supervisor responsible for the employee's activities. The warning may actually be oral or written, or both. Oral warnings issued in writing are maintained in the supervisor's file. Oral warnings are not forwarded to the employee's departmental personnel file or to the Division of Human Resource Management's Records section.
2. Written Reprimand. The supervisor responsible for the employee's activities also issues written reprimands. This action should be both oral and written. The supervisor and employee must sign it. A copy is given to the employee and copies are sent to the employee's departmental personnel file as well as the Division of Human Resource Management's Records section. Written reprimands must be on the standardized form NPD-52. If the employee refuses to sign the form, the supervisor will state this fact on the NPD-52 form.
3. Suspension. A suspension is without pay and may not exceed 30 working days. It requires an NPD-41 form-Specificity of Charges. If the employee refuses to sign the form, the supervisor will state this fact on the NPD-41 form.

4. Demotion. A demotion to a lower class also requires the NPD-41 form-Specificity of Charges. If the employee refuses to sign the supervisor will state this fact on the NPD-41 form.
5. Dismissal. Dismissal from services also requires NDP-41 form-Specificity of Charges. If the employee refuses to sign the supervisor will state this fact on the NPD-41 form.

NOTE: The Division Administrator of the employee's assigned division must review and discuss with the Attorney General's office all disciplinary actions involving a recommendation of suspension (3), demotion (4), or dismissal (5) of a permanent employee.

The attached chart shows recommended minimum and maximum penalties for the first, second, and additional offenses for a wide range of prohibited activities. If disciplinary actions 3, 4, and 5, described at the bottom of each page of the chart, are recommended for a permanent employee, the pre-disciplinary hearing guidelines found in NAC 284.656 must be followed.

NOTE: Appropriate disciplinary or corrective action may also be taken for any causes listed in Section 284.650 of the Nevada Administrative Code, "Causes for Disciplinary Action"
(<http://www.leg.state.nv.us/NAC/NAC-284.html#NAC284Sec650>)

If an employee should disagree with an action taken by a supervisor, he has several administrative review processes available to him. Actions that result in an oral warning or a written reprimand can be grieved through the formal grievance process. Corrective actions resulting in suspension, demotion, or dismissal provide for a pre-disciplinary hearing process and a post disciplinary appeal before the Division of Human Resource Management Hearing Officer.

MEMO TO THE PERSONNEL FILE OF _____ Print Employee Name

The authority to prescribe behavior and performance standards derives from the Nevada Revised Statute Chapter 284 and the "Disciplinary Procedures, Adjustment of Grievances, and Prohibitions and Offenses" sections of the State of Nevada Rules for State Personnel Administration. These regulations provide that each appointing authority shall determine and describe in writing activities that are inconsistent, incompatible, or in conflict with the duties and responsibilities of the Department of Administration (DOA).

The DOA Prohibitions and Penalties document is a guide intending to clarify existing rules and regulations and does not cover all infractions and violations that could conceivably occur. It does however cover the majority of situations that are a source of concern to supervisors and DOA. As a tool, which describes behavior that is subject to discipline, the handbook will serve the needs of both supervisory personnel and employees. Additions, deletions or changes to the Guide as they are approved by the Personnel Commission will be communicated to employees and supervisors similarly to other Department Policies and Procedures.

The State Personnel Commission approved this guide, thus it has the same force and effect as other rules and regulations covering classified employees.

Once signed, this acknowledgment will be placed in the employee's personnel file.
