

Nevada Commission for Women Event/Project Sponsorship Application

The Nevada Commission for Women (NCFW) is committed to collaborating with organizations for women that are mindful of advancing women toward full equality in all areas.

About the Nevada Commission for Women

The Nevada Commission for Women (NCFW) was created in 1991 as an information clearinghouse. The Commission was reactivated in 2014 by Governor Brian Sandoval.

The Nevada Commission for Women has 10 members, all appointed by the Governor, having varied political philosophies regarding issues of concern to women, and no more than five members of the Commission may be from the same political party.

Per NRS 233I, Nevada Commission for Women are tasked with studying the changing and developing roles of women in society, including, without limitation, the recognition of socioeconomic factors that influence the status of women, advising executive and legislative bodies on the effect of proposed legislation on women, collect and disseminate information on activities, programs and essential services available to women in Nevada, informing the news media, educators, governmental officers, professional, business and labor leaders and other persons in position of authority or influence about issues pertaining to women, providing referrals and serve as a resource for information on issues pertaining to women, identifying and recommending qualified women for positions in all levels of government, promoting and facilitating collaboration among commissions and organizations for women at the local, state and national levels, and recognizing and promoting the contributions that women in the State make at the local, state and national levels.
